

Life after 2020

A dramatic turn took place in our lives,
As a new path of life arrives.
Many things completely change,
Some are the usual and some entirely strange.

People will be scared to go out,
some of us will continue to doubt...
Is it safe to go to the movies?
Will the questions ever cease?

Walking down the street,
The known people will not dare greet.
Even after this horrendous pandemic is over,
People will suffer from the fear.

The fear will not end,
And soon it will be hard to pretend.
Yet, here I am trapped in my home,
Desperate to roam.

100 years from now,

People will remember 2020 and the coronavirus mystery,
And before we know we will become a part of world history!
